

"Saints" matching activity instructions

1. Print this document and cut out the picture frames, images and the caption cards.
2. Display the empty frames with their gallery cards at the front.
3. Hide the images around the church.
4. During the activity, invite people to find the portraits and bring them to the front.
5. Match them with their captions and place them in their frames.

If you wish, these can be displayed on a board later, with images made in the response, to be a visual reminder of the stories of "saints" who can inspire us in our faith journeys.

Susannah Wesley

Fanny Crosby

(1820-1915)

Was blind, and wrote lots of hymns about God's love, like "Blessed Assurance" and "To God Be The Glory."

Charles Wesley

(1707-1788)

Wrote lots of hymns to help people learn about God. We still sing lots of them today, like "And Can It Be" and "Hark The Herald Angels Sing."

Eric Liddell

(1902-1945)

Did not run in his best race at the Olympics because it was on a Sunday and he believed that day should be kept special for God.

Brother Andrew

(1928-2022)

Smuggled Bibles into countries where being a Christian was dangerous. Founded Open Doors, who still work with persecuted Christians.

William Carey

(1761-1834)

A shoemaker who travelled to India to tell people about Jesus. He got Bibles printed in the languages people could read.

Rosa Parks

(1913-2005)

A black Christian who wouldn't give her seat to a white man on the bus. Her actions helped change America.

Johann Sebastian

Bach

(1685-1750)

Wrote famous music for churches that tell the stories of Jesus.

Corrie ten Boom

(1892-1983)

Went to prison for helping hide Jews from the Nazi. When she was released, she taught people to love, not hate, like Jesus taught

Susannah Wesley

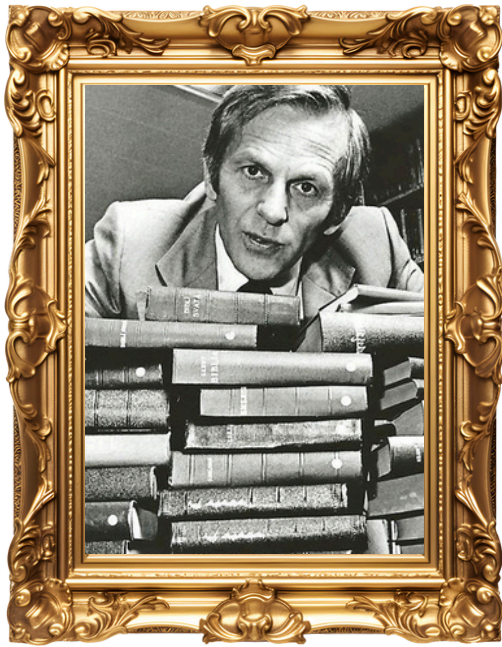

(1669-1742)

Mother of John and Charles Wesley, who taught all her children about Jesus and help prayer meetings so her neighbours could learn too.

Susannah Spurgeon

(1832-1903)

Sent books to ministers who couldn't buy their own. God always made sure the money she was sent paid for the books she sent out.
